

Dear Scouter:

Thank you for completing the BSA Online Youth Protection Training Course. It should be helpful to you in providing wholesome activities for young people whether participating in Scouting activities or other activities in your community. After all, we need to strive to protect young people in all community activities.

If you are a registered Scout leader, your fulfillment of this course validates you as a youth protection-trained leader. I encourage you to urge the other adult volunteers in your Scout unit to complete the course as well.

Thank you for your interest and participation in protecting our youth – our most valuable resource.

Sincerely,

Terry Trout
